

Contract: General Principles - The Laws of Australia

Editor: Professor JLR Davis, Australian National University.

Publisher: Lawbook Co.

Country: AUSTRALIA

Price: $149.99 (soft cover)

Pages: 958

Published: 2006

This book is a comprehensive work outlining the fundamental doctrines of Australian contract law. Available in hardcover and softcover, it includes practical and insightful commentary on topics such as formation, terms, performance, breach and remedies.

As the law of contract permeates every area of practice, Contract: General Principles - The Laws of Australia provides a useful reference for Australian practitioners of all levels and areas of expertise. The unique structure of this work identifies definitive statements of legal principle without compromising the depth of analysis.

Current to 31 August 2006, the latest authorities in contract law, including relevant legislation and significant High Court decisions, form part of the extensive references supporting this authoritative text.

Brief (Law Society of WA) 2007