

CORPORATIONS LEGISLATION 2022

HOW TO ORDER YOUR CUSTOM COVERS/BULK
COPIES FROM THOMSON REUTERS

Thomson Reuters' Corporations Legislation has an outstanding reputation for accuracy, dependability and reliability. This fully consolidated legislation book includes the Corporations Act 2001, Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001 and associated Acts and related legislation, capturing the latest amendments up to 1 January 2022.

Designed for use by practitioners, business professionals and anyone with an interest in corporations law, the Corporations Act 2001 is supplemented with key section annotations updated by Sydney barrister, Edmund Finnane. These section specific commentary notes provide additional guidance for the most important provisions. In addition, in the "Year in Review" feature, Jason Harris highlights significant corporations law developments since January 2021.

FEATURES OUR CUSTOMERS RELY ON

Corporations Legislation 2022 offers an extensive range of features to assist practitioners and students working with the Corporations Act 2001 and related legislation. These include:

- Key section authored annotations provide additional guidance on selected provisions.
- Annual review highlighting the major corporations developments in the preceding year
- History notes including the date of effect of the amending provision
- Side notes displayed in bold type inside square brackets to the right of a subsection number and clearly distinguished from the legislation and are designed to aid in the interpretation of the relevant subsections, where no subsection heading is contained within the actual text of the legislation
- Cross-references to regulations are included at provision level, indicating where a particular regulation affects a section of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth)
- Cross-references to related ASIC materials: Relevant ASIC Regulatory Guides, Class Orders and Forms are noted at section level
- Detailed Subject Index
- Design of navigation tools: Content presentation supports easy reading and fast access to legislation sections, with the use of thumb tabs, running heads and section references

KEY DEVELOPMENTS

CUSTOM COVERS

OUR COVER OR DESIGN YOUR OWN – THE CHOICE IS YOURS

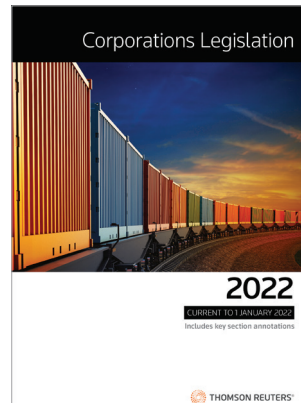

We are pleased to offer our customers one of two easy custom cover options for Corporations Legislation 2022

1. Supply your logo for use on Thomson Reuters' standard cover – see sample to the right
2. Design and supply your own cover

Contact Megan Priest to get started
Megan.Priest@thomsonreuters.com

If you order 100 or more copies, you can choose to either design your own cover or co-brand the Thomson Reuters standard cover at no additional cost.

Standard Cover

Option 1

Supply your logo for use on the Thomson Reuters' standard cover*

Supply your company or firm logo to us via email (in eps and jpeg format), along with any specifications like minimum height, width and colour requirements, and we'll do the rest.

Option 2

Design and supply your own cover*

Supply us with your own completed cover artwork. Specification requirements follow on the next page.

Remember, when you design and supply your own cover, you can also take full advantage of the front inside cover and inside back cover to insert your own message – at no additional cost.

*Options 1 and 2

Customer Signoff:

Whether you are supplying a logo for use on the standard cover or designing your own cover, we will send you a full colour proof for approval prior to printing. We will wait for your approval before printing your 2022 copies.

Author and insert your own "Year in Review" section:

If you would like to substitute your own commentary for the "Year in Review" feature or alternatively remove the "Year in Review" section altogether, please contact your Account Manager.
