Thomson Reuters may, in its absolute discretion and without limitation, reproduce, communicate, develop, adapt, modify and exploit the Contribution in any manner or in any medium as it considers fit either alone or as part of the Journal or in any other product or compilation or in any manner or any medium whether now existing or developed in the future (including without limitation in print, electronic and online formats). For the avoidance of doubt, Thomson Reuters owns the copyright in the edited version of the Contribution.
- Thomson Reuters recognises that you have moral rights in the Contribution. In submitting the Contribution you consent to Thomson Reuters editing the Contribution as to style and content, making material alterations to the Contribution as is reasonably necessary for exploitation of the Contribution and using excerpts from the Contribution for the purpose of promoting the Contribution or the Journal.
- In submitting the Contribution you warrant that the Contribution, and any part of it, is your original work, that you are the sole unencumbered owner of the copyright subsisting in the Contribution and that you have the right to grant this licence to Thomson Reuters. You also warrant that you have appropriately referenced and obtained permission to use any third party material in the Contribution so that when published the Contribution will not violate or infringe any copyright or moral right and that the Contribution does not contain anything that is in breach of any court order or which is obscene, indecent, objectionable, defamatory, libelous, misleading or deceptive or likely to mislead and deceive.
- You acknowledge that all monies collected by any third party organisation operating under a statutory licence in respect of reprographic or other use of the Journal or part thereof shall be paid to Thomson Reuters and that Thomson Reuters shall not be obligated to account to you for any such proceeds.
